About Kirloskar Group

Kirloskar Group is amongst India's largest engineering conglomerates. The Group was established in the year 1888, by Late Shri Laxmanrao Kirloskar, and it achieved its highest growth rates in the Indian industry under the leadership of Late Shri Shantanurao Laxmanrao Kirloskar. Building on its core engineering strength, the group's scope of operations spans a gamut of industrial equipment. From a wide range of eco-friendly diesel engines, silent generating sets, pumps and farm mechanization equipment to name a few.

Kirloskar Group has become one of the most admired engineering firms both in India and abroad. It has manufacturing facilities supplying to more than 165 countries spanning across more than eight sectors, including power, oil & gas, building & construction, irrigation, marine & defense, and automobiles.

About Kirloskar Institute of Management (KIM)

Established in 1991, Kirloskar Institute of Management (KIM) was conceived as a training institute and a knowledge hub for Kirloskar Group Managers, to share their knowledge & learning to bridge the gap and cope with the latest management trends.

The Institute, initially offered Management Development Programs and Consultancy. Taking a leaf out of the rich experience gained from this KIM moved on to offer an AICTE approved PGDM Program from the year 1998.

The Institute has, since, been endeavouring to achieve excellence in management studies through the ruling paradigm of 'Education through values' with 'Value' being operative in beliefs, processes and results.
